

CHONG YI MEI

BROADLY EXPERIENCED LAWYER FOR COMPLEX PROBLEMS

Chong Yi Mei graduated from the Singapore Management University of Singapore with a Bachelor of Laws and was admitted as an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Singapore in 2013.

Yi Mei specialises in dispute resolution, which includes arbitration, litigation and mediation. She has appeared and assisted in various interlocutory application, trials and appeals, in the Court of Appeal, High Court and State Court.

Apart from dispute resolution, her areas of practice also include corporate and commercial matters, corporate advisory, and estate-planning matters, such as wills, probate and appointment of deputies under the Mental Capacity Act and has been invited to give talks at public libraries on Wills and Estate Planning matters.

Civil Litigation

Yi Mei had assisted in acting successfully for a construction company seeking to defend an application to set aside an adjudication determination in Sito Construction Pte Ltd (trading as Afone International) v PBT Engineering Pte Ltd [2019] SGHC 7. Even on appeal, the Court of Appeal had agreed with the decision in the Court below.

She had also acted for a main contractor company in applying for a stay of execution proceedings in FT Plumbing Construction Pte Ltd v Authentic Builder Pte Ltd and another matter [2018] SGHCR 3.

Yi Mei has also represented parties in contested probate applications, including a case where the novel issue of whether a creditor of an estate had the right to lodge a caveat in Khor Liang Ing Grace (executor of the estate of Tan See Wee, deceased) v Nie Jianmin [2014] 4 SLR 1197.
